

AZTLAN

View of the Aztlan Theater, 974 Santa Fe Drive in Denver, Colorado. The brick building has Art Deco elements, a stepped front and low relief designs. Banners hang on the front of the theater and over the street, they read: "Cinco de Mayo" and "Viva Cinco de Mayo." People near the theater and in the street celebrate the holiday.

On days like this one
We wrap ourselves in our roots
Pride waving like flags

Haiku: Colorado Poet Laureate Bobby LeFebre

Photo: Contributor; Virginia Castro, Image Courtesy of the Center for Colorado & the West at Auraria Library

DOORS
OPEN
DENVER

DENVER ARCHITECTURE FOUNDATION